Charlotte, NC.... (August 25, 2014) — Have you ever wondered what it's like to sing in a choir? Find out on Tuesday, September 16 when Carolina Voices' three choirs open their rehearsal doors to the community. This is a fun opportunity to see what goes on behind-the-scenes in preparing for a concert including watching the singers at work and observing how a director shapes a piece of music for a performance.

Pete Leo, Carolina Voices' Artistic Director said, "Singing with a Carolina Voices' choir is a great way to give back to the community while meeting new friends and fulfilling a personal passion for singing. For individuals who have considered singing with a group, this open rehearsal event is the perfect opportunity to experience what it's like."

The Open Rehearsal will be conveniently held 7pm-9pm at Myers Park Baptist Church, 1900 Queens Road, Charlotte, NC 28207, which is also where Carolina Voices offices are located. Carolina Voices' board members and staff will host the event and guide guests through the rehearsal spaces to see the choirs in action. Refreshments will be served and drawings for ticket prizes will also be held. More details below:
